A great deal of corn sprouted in the field. In the month of October. 1872-seven years ago-there were some very warm days-the 3d, 4th, 5th, and 6th. Heavy-thunder-shower on Sunday the 6th instant. In 1865-fourteen years agothere was a very warm season. Through September no rain-very dry. October came in dry and warm. About the 4th there was frost, and cooler, weather to the 7th. From the 7th to the 12th was very warm. Saturday, October 14th, was a very rainy day and quite cool, with a northeast wind; beaviest rain since August 22d. Thursday, October 19th, eclipse of the sun about 10 o'clock A. M. Quite cool and windy. The remainder of the month was cool and mostly dry. Seven years hence brings the year of 1858. The month came in warm and dry. The 2d and 3d, Monday the 4th, and Tue-day the 5th, were very warm days, followed by rains on the 6th, with cooler weather. Donati's comet was at its greatest brilliancy from about the 1st to the 10th. The comet was the largest I ever saw. Gradusly grew small after the 10th. October was a very mild and pleasant month. Many years ago he performed a marriage ceremony by which two young Philadelphians were made man and wife. The husband was J. R. Avery, and the bride a young woman of fine attainments and intellectual promise. Shortbeneficial to him, yet he, can scarcely summon up ly after their marriage the couple went to Manhattan, Kansas, where they located. Mrs. Avery soon began to show her husband remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the that she intended to advocate the rights of her sex, and one morning Avery disappearknew. Mrs. Avery took pupils, and went to work to earn a livelihood. While thus engaged she was met by Judge Foster, a. prominent member of the Chaton, Iowa, bar. Judge Foster learned the story of her life, procured a divorce for ber, and made her Mrs. Foster. The twice-wedded woman studied law with the Judge, and, converting him to her way of thinking, they bung out their sign in Clinton-"Foster & in Iowa. Time meanwhile had passed, Dr. Warren remaining in Philadelphia. Last summer Apostle Murphy, Dr. Warren, and many other elergymen of note, attended the great camp-meeting at Bismarck Grove. Kansas. There, according to the Atchison (Kansas) Patriot of October 6th. Dr. Warren met Mrs. Foster, who, as president of the Iowa Woman's Christian Temperance Union, represented that organization at the grove. At the close of the encampment, a few weeks ago, Dr. Warren went to Denver as the guest of the Rev. Earl Cranston. It so bappened that Mrs. Foster also went to Denver. It so happened, moreover, that on the Sunday after his arrivat Dr. Warren sat in a pew in Mr. Cranston's church just in front of Mrs. Foster. It so happened-strangest of allthat in the pew back of Mrs. Foster sat Avery, her former busband, now a resident of Denver, a member of Mr. Cranston's church, the husband of a good-looking wife, and the father of five children. The children were in the pew with their father. LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of
